

DEMONSTRATES ABILITY TO FLY

Henri Farman Gives an Exhibition at Brighton Beach.

AERONAUTS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Vociferously Cheer Air Navigator at Conclusion of Successful Flight and Want to Carry Him Off the Field on Their Shoulders.

New York, Aug. 1.—Rising from the ground like a giant bird and darting through the air at express train speed, Henri Farman's aeroplane, the heavier than air flying machine he brought here from France to demonstrate his ability to fly, made its initial flight in this country at Brighton Beach. It rose from an especially prepared runway at the will of the inventor and after attaining a height of twenty-five feet flew straight ahead on a direct line, finally alighting with exquisite grace when the noted pilot diminished the motive power.

During the brief space of time in which the aeroplane was skimming over the center field of the racetrack the few hundred spectators, most of whom were friends of the inventor or rival aviators, watched the flight with breathless interest. The instant the trim looking machine landed cheered the air—cheers far more enthusiastic and vociferous than those of a racetrack crowd. Farman was surrounded and literally hugged by the jubilant aeronauts. Members of the Aero Club of America, under whose auspices Farman will conduct his public flights at Brighton Beach, wanted to carry the successful inventor off the field on their shoulders.

Newspaper photographers crowded around the aeroplane to get pictures of the machine as it was about to make its first flight in America and it was at this moment that Farman decided to make another test of the motor before flying. He instructed his mechanics to hold fast to the aeroplane while he turned on the power. Instantly the propeller began to revolve at the rate of 1,400 revolutions to the minute and a breeze equal to a small cyclone was created. The photographers were knocked flat and plastered to the ground until the power was turned off.

Only 350 yards were covered in the air in the first flight, but a few minutes later Farman made another try and traveled 700 yards in the air. He could have gone much further, he said, but feared striking a pile of lumber.

KELLY LASTS THREE ROUNDS

Stanley Ketchell Quickly Knocks Out Chicago Fighter.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Stanley Ketchell knocked out Hugo Kelly of Chicago in the third round. A left shift to the jaw, after Kelly had all the better of the two opening rounds gave the latter his quietus.

In the third and last round Ketchell sent in three lefts to the jaw as quick as a flash. The third caught Kelly flush on the jaw and sent him to the floor of if shot. He was unable to rise and was counted out.

SPECIAL COUNCIL FORMED

To Put Turkish Constitution into Force Immediately.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—An official communication just issued announces the formation of a special council to put the constitution in force immediately. The council is composed of Kiamil Pasha and the ministers of foreign affairs and interior, the president of the state council and the legal adviser to the porte.

The sultan has decided shortly to issue a rescript consecrating the constitution.

The leaders of the Young Turks are working methodically to insure the success of the new regime. They are devoting their efforts in the first place to getting the finances of the country in order and to the regular payment of officials. With this as their aim, they have secured the grand vizier's promise that the salaries of high officials will be reduced to proper amounts and that none of the additional sums hitherto paid will be allowed them. Nobody will be permitted to retain two offices and all needless under secretarieships and like offices will be abolished.

ELLIS OFFERED POSITION.

May Be First Assistant Attorney General of the United States.

Cincinnati, Aug. 1.—Wade H. Ellis attorney general of Ohio, has been offered the position of first assistant attorney general of the United States. Mr. Ellis, who is resting after the strenuous work preceding the nomination of W. H. Taft for president, has asked for time to consider the appointment. Before and during the Republican convention, Mr. Ellis was engaged on the Republican platform and

WADE H. ELLIS.

It is believed that his strenuous efforts in that connection were responsible for his present prostration. The letter from Mr. Bonaparte, the United States attorney general, arrived Thursday, but Mr. Ellis was in a condition which forbade consideration of the proffer before two weeks had elapsed.

WILL GET LETTERS FROM JUDGE TAFT

Three Babies Named After Republican Candidate.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 1.—Although he kept his secretary and three stenographers exceedingly busy all day and into the night handling replies to his heavy mail, Candidate Taft had comparatively a care free day. He divided his work with a game of golf in the morning and a ride with General Corbin as companion in the afternoon.

Colorado wants Mr. Taft's presence in September, according to an urgent invitation which came from the management of the interstate fair and exposition to be opened Labor day in Denver. As the acceptance of the invitation would mean an abandonment of Mr. Taft's present plan to conduct his personal campaign without travel, his regrets were sent.

Three miniature "William Howard Tafts" have made dots on the political and domestic horizon in New York, Indiana and Illinois, according to letters from the proud parents to the candidate, and each of the three will get an autograph letter from the original bearer of the name and perhaps something besides. The Hoosier Taft was born, according to advices received, during the delivery of the Taft speech of acceptance. The parents of the Illinois William Howard Taft chose the name a year ago, but not for political reasons, as their statement is that the boy weighed 25½ pounds at birth.

The New York baby is credited with the real "Taft smile." His father, a pharmacist, writes:

"From the way the youngster smiles every time I ask him if the Republican party is going to win, I feel sure you will be our next president."

Many congratulatory letters on the acceptance speech have been received by Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft has not yet indicated whether a reply will be made to Mr. Bryan's comments on the speech.

UNITED STATES AND HONDURAS

Unpleasant Situation Has Developed Between Them.

CAVILLA'S ACTION THE CAUSE

President of the Central American Republic Cancelled the Exequaturs of the Foreign Consuls at Ceiba—Incident Causes Annoyance in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 1.—An unpleasant situation has developed between the United States and Honduras growing out of the action of President Davila in cancelling the exequaturs of the foreign consuls at Ceiba, Honduras, because of their alleged friendliness to the revolutionists' cause. These officers include American Consul Drew Linard and Vice Consul Reynolds, and the vice consuls of France and Norway. The reports that have reached the state department uphold the contention of the consuls that they have not been guilty of any breach of propriety, that they did not advise the surrender of the town when demanded by the revolutionists, as charged by Honduras, but simply communicated the demand to the commandant. The incident has caused considerable annoyance to this government which, ever since the revolution in Honduras commenced, has exerted its best efforts to prevent any breach of neutrality in Central America that might prove adverse to President Davila's government.

Secretary Bacon had a call from Senor Ugarte, the Honduran minister, who presented to Mr. Bacon some information he had received from Foreign Minister Fiallos, giving the Honduras side of the controversy. Mr. Bacon will take up the matter again next week. He had intended to start on an official mission to Porto Rico today, but this and other state department questions demanding his attention made it necessary for him to delay his departure.

SWEEPING DEMURRER.

Made by Railroad in Action Brought by the Government.

Boston, Aug. 1.—A demurrer as sweeping as legal phraseology could make it and offering objections both to the form and substance of petition, was the answer filed in the United States circuit court here by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, as defendants in the action brought against it by the United States government. As filed the demurrer is in three parts, in the first of which the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company appears as a corporation in three states. In the second part the New Haven road demurs as having formerly been the Consolidated Railroad company, a Connecticut corporation. The third part embraces the demurrer of the Providence Securities company. The main contention in each part of the demurrer (and all three parts are practically identical in many specifications) is that the petition is uncertain in its statements concerning alleged violations of the interstate commerce act.

Aside from the principal representations of the demurrer, the general claim is offered that the government's petition does not make out a case such as should entitle the petitioner to the relief prayed for against the defendant.

"Repugnant and inconsistent" and containing "material allegations which contradict one another," are also declarations made with reference to the petition, and all that part of it which relates in any way "to the Boston and Maine railroad, or to any connection of the defendant therewith," is specific as a subject of demurrer.

PETTIBONE VERY ILL.

Operation to Be Performed in Hope of Saving His Life.

Denver, Aug. 1.—George A. Pettibone, tried in Idaho for the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg, will be operated on in the hope of saving his life. He has been suffering ever since the trials with a trouble in the region of the kidneys. The doctors are unable to determine whether his ailment is of the kidneys or spleen. They feel hopeful of Pettibone's recovery, however, if there is no cancerous growth.

CONFERENCE HELD AT SAGAMORE HILL

Conditions in the Canal Zone at Panama Discussed.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 1.—A conference on conditions in the American canal zone at Panama and on the relations of the canal zone with the Republic of Panama, was held at Sagamore Hill.

Secretary of War Wright and Secretary of the Isthmian Canal Commission Joseph Bishop, who had been summoned here to discuss the Panama matters with the president, came here, accompanied by Mrs. Bishop and Gifford Pinchot, chief of the bureau of forestry. The guests remained over night at Sagamore Hill.

With General Wright and Secretary Bishop the president went over the situation in Panama. The conference will be resumed, when the future policy to be followed by the officials of the canal zone will be determined.

When questioned regarding a report from Panama which stated that the people there believed that the ultimate result of the American operations on the Isthmus would be the seizure by the United States of the Republic of Panama, Secretary Bishop said that the alarm, if there was any felt, was absurd. He remarked that the people of Panama did not seem to understand that the United States was there to dig the canal and do nothing else.

General Wright had nothing to say concerning the conference with the president on Panama. He said that he probably would talk with the president also on the dismissal of the eight cadets from West Point for hazing.

Gifford Pinchot came to see the president regarding the work of the national conservation commission, in which the president is so greatly interested. He said that the work was progressing very favorably.

HITCHCOCK KEEPS OUT OF IT

Declines to Mix in Political Fight in New York State.

New York, Aug. 1.—If the Republican political leaders of New York state who conferred with Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, hoped to draw from the Taft manager an expression of opinion as to the wisdom of renominating Governor Hughes for a second term or of turning him down, they were keenly disappointed. Practically the entire day was spent by Mr. Hitchcock in listening to state leaders expound their views on the governorship question, but he told them all that it was not a part of his duties to pick candidates for state tickets. He declared that he would not consent to take any part in purely state campaigns, so long as no party breach that might endanger the national ticket was threatened.

Not only did Mr. Hitchcock conceal his own preference in regard to the governorship, but he successfully eluded every effort on the part of the callers to learn whether President Roosevelt and Judge Taft were in favor of the renomination of Hughes. He said he had not discussed the question at Cincinnati with the Republican nominee for president, nor had he received any communication from Mr. Roosevelt regarding the matter.

ENERGETIC CAMPAIGN.

Will Be Waged by Democratic Manager Mack.

New York, Aug. 1.—Several members of the Democratic national committee have reached here and will confer with Norman E. Mack, the Democratic manager, when he arrives to make arrangements for the opening of Eastern headquarters for Bryan and Kern.

That Mr. Mack intends to wage an energetic campaign is indicated by the announcement of an advisory committee made up of Democratic leaders representing all sections of the country, under the chairmanship of David R. Francis of Missouri, and including Governor Johnson of Minnesota. The members named are all drawn from outside of the national committee.

The executive committee, which was announced, numbers twenty members, more than twice the usual size. In addition there was a labor committee named, and through this body especial attention will be directed toward reaching out for the vote of the laboring classes.

The chief headquarters for Mr. Mack will be in Chicago, but he expects to divide his time so as to keep in close touch with the East.

St. Paul Boy Drowned.

St. Paul, Aug. 1.—In a fierce struggle for life, during which he grabbed hold of a companion who went to his rescue and almost pulled him in with him to sure death, Ernest, the fifteen-year-old son of Ernest Uhler, blacksmith, was drowned in the Mississippi river. The body has not been recovered.

STRIKE MAY BE ORDERED

Switchmen on the Delaware and Lackawanna May Go Out.

Seranton, Pa., Aug. 1.—The most reliable information regarding the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway switchmen's case is that a statement soon will be issued setting forth the employees' side of the case, and ordering a strike contingent upon the company persisting in refusing to treat further with the grievance committee.

The refusal of President Truesdale to see the committee has caused an acute situation.

Grand Master Hawley and the grievance committee are engaged in preparing a statement. The grand master would give no information as to what would likely eventuate.

Cloudburst in Colorado.

Florence, Colo., Aug. 1.—A cloudburst in the headwaters of Oak and Coal creeks sent a raging torrent down these little streams, flooding three towns, washing out bridges and doing damage estimated to be not less than $100,000. No loss of life is reported.

MINNESOTA democracy is still looking for a Moses to lead them out of the wilderness of despair. They are hunting for a man who is willing to look
certain defeat in the face while heading their state ticket and keep smiling.

THE call for the democratic county
convention has been issued, the date
being Friday, August 14th, the state convention being on the 19th and this county is entitled to eight delegates to the same. The primaries will be held on Wednesday evening, August 12th.

THE feasibility of cutting the weeds
in the streets and alleys has finally dawned upon the powers that be and a force of men are at work removing them. The weeds are not only unsightly but are breeding places for mosquitos and insects of all kinds and
the right step has been taken by putting the men with scythes at work. It is hoped they will be kept at the job
until the streets are entirely cleaned
of the pest.

Gov. JOHNSON has evened up with
Editor Vasaly of Little Falls, by removing him from the state board of equalization and appointing Charles F.
Lander, of St. Cloud, to succeed him.
The Little Falls editor has been offensively anti-Johnson and his efforts have been so strenuously noticeable in favor
of the "peerless leader" that the governor could not withstand the temptation to decapitate him when the time
came for the reappointment of members of the board whose terms expired. The gentleman appointed was a strong Johnson man during the late unpleasantness and fought the governor's battle
in St. Cloud against the Bryan statesmen, James R. Bennett. The method

the governor takes in evening up political sores of this kind would not be followed by almost anyone else who expected to ask his party for further favors, but the Johnson wing of the Minnesota democracy is so ripping mad at any who had the audacity to be for any one but Johnson that their acts are not tempered with mercy—or good sense.

FUEL SITUATION
IS CRITICAL
Great Danger of Another Fuel
Famine in Brainerd Unless
People Act Quickly
SO SAY THE FUEL DEALERS

Scarcely Any Coal Bought by Consumers and There is Little Wood in Sight

The Duluth Herald of a day or two ago contained the following regarding the coal situation:

"Commercial agents upon the north-western section of the Northern Pacific were informed today that every effort must be exercised to induce the coal dealers to make prompt orders of fuel. In the communication the agents of the road were informed that there might be a car shortage approaching that of two years ago, should the coal and wheel movement come at the same time.

"Up to the present time hardly any coal has moved westward. The orders of the road for the past two months are in some instances actually behind those of April and May. This month the coal orders should be very heavy.

"Officials of the Western roads state that cars are becoming more scarce and that in the event of a heavy crop movement the coal dealers may find it very hard to get coal. The lesson of two years ago is held up to the dealers as a condition that may occur this year.

"For the past three months efforts to induce the country dealers to get in early orders have been without avail, but the warning issued this morning may bring results."

A DISPATCH reporter called on the various coal dealers of the city and made inquiries concerning the matter. In every instance the answer was the same, that the people had evidently forgotten the lesson of two years ago and were utterly neglecting to lay in their supply of fuel. Mr. Fisher, of the Fisher-Budd Fuel company, stated that while they had filled their fuel sheds and built an additional one and filled that early in the season they had sold practically no coal. Last year they had put over 800 tons in the consumers' bins by the first of August and this year they have not yet sold 50 tons since warm weather commenced.

"Unless people wake up, said Mr. Fisher, they will be up against a worse proposition than they were two years ago. It is impossible for the local dealers, with the close margin on coal, to buy in the summer time and store until winter, enough to carry the city through. Each consumer, however, can in most instances carry his own supply without cramping him. There is little wood in sight this year and should there be a car shortage or blockades the fuel situation will be critical in the extreme."

Mr. Larson spoke in a similar strain in the matter. Mr. Hitch was not in when the reporter called, but it is known that he has been pushing the cement business more than the fuel business during the summer and probably 100 tons of coal will cover the entire amount in private bins in the city, as against 1,500 to 2,000 tons in stock last year at this time.

Whatever one may think of the possibility of the railroads handling the coal when actually needed, the sense of satisfaction of knowing that you are not dependent upon anyone for the means of keeping comfortable next winter is worth more than the interest on the investment in your winter's supply of fuel, and besides it is cheaper now than it will be next winter.

OPENING SUCCESSFUL

Special Sales Opening to Big Crowds
--Security State Bank Now Doing Business

The two special sales which opened up this morning were well attended. At H. W. Linnemann's big clearance sale a large number of young men were kept busy waiting on the men who were taking advantage of the bargains offered. The store was crowded during the entire day.

The bankrupt sale of the Cale stock which opened this morning attracted a large crowd the majority of whom are women. The many clerks are kept busy.

The Security state bank opened for business this morning and Mr. Storck, the cashier reports a most flattering business. The bank has engaged Earl Arnold, son of P. J. Arnold of this city as stenographer and clerk and he assumed the duties of his position this morning. Messrs. Guerin and Storck both express themselves not only as well satisfied with the day's business but very glad that vexatious delays incident to getting started are at last over. Here's success to the young institution, may it live long and prosper.

Excellent Health Advice

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, biliousness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at H. P. Dunn's drug store. 50c.

Dr. King's New Discovery is the king of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at H. P. Goes Back to Deerwood

The Verndale Sun says: C. J. Rathvon, who purchased the Racket store last spring, is to return to his former home at Deerwood with his family about the middle of August. He has a hotel there that had been rented, but now the renter is to move out and Mr. Rathvon is forced to return and take charge of the property. He has done fairly well with his business here and dislikes to give it up at this time. The stock will be closed out in the next ten days at cost and at the prices the goods have been marked down so the stock should be pretty well gone in the ten days' time. What is left over will be shipped to Deerwood.

Machine to Pack Apples.

A new invention which will no doubt be a boon to fruit growers has been produced in Wenatchee, Wash., and the inventors have applied for a patent. The new invention is an apple packing machine and will be introduced by Wenatchee men. The apple packing machine is built of steel and is practically indestructible. The machine is not heavy and can be moved about with little effort. It is operated by placing the foot on a lever, which throws a clamp on the lid of the box and forces it into place, with plenty of room left for nailing.

Severe Cure For Prostrations.

"On these hot days I make the men shut down every window and turn on the steam heat," said the owner of a big factory the other day. "I know that sounds like a crazy man's act, but it is the only thing to do. Working away as they are, almost stripped, the draft from open windows does the men more harm than good. The thing that makes them feel the heat is not so much the soaring of the mercury as that of the humidity. Ninety-nine out of every hundred prostrations are caused by the humidity. By shutting the windows to keep out the moist air and by turning on the steam heat I thoroughly dry that which is already inside. The temperature is driven 5 to 10 degrees higher by this means, but the consequent diminution of humidity more than counteracts this. Before I caught on to this scheme I used to have employees prostrated almost every day through the summer months, and on very hot days I had to shut down altogether. Now the men work on the hottest days, and not one has been prostrated this year. I know it sounds crazy, but you just try it and you'll be surprised at the result."

ARM, HOME AND GARDEN

Poultry Lice and Mites

The lice and mites of the poultry house are entirely different, although often spoken of as they were the same creatures. Both of them breed in the filth and damp corners of the houses, so that cleanliness is the greatest help to get rid of them. The lice are found on the walls, roosts and nests of the house, but spend a great deal of their time on the fowls. Cleanliness in the house and thorough whitewashing twice a year, in addition to the furnishing of dust baths for the fowls and use of insect powder on setting hens, will, usually, keep the house pretty free from lice. The little chicks can be treated with a small amount of lard rubbed on the head and throat and under the wings.

The mites are harder to kill and need more vigorous treatment. They visit the fowls only at mealtimes, making their raids at night, and then returning to their hiding places. Kerosene emulsion gives the best results in fighting them. It is made as follows: Shave a half pound laundry soap in a gallon of soft water and boil. Remove from the fire and while hot mix in two gallons of kerosene, stirring with a paddle or churning with a force pump. This will make a thick emulsion. Use one part of this stock emulsion to ten parts soft water and apply to every portion of the house with a spray pump or whitewash brush. Give a second dose three or four days later, and still another three or four days after the second. The emulsion will kill every mite and louse it touches and the second and third doses will get those that hatch after the previous applications.

Dirty dropping boards are the greatest breeding places for vermin. Clean off the boards frequently, especially during warm weather. After each cleaning apply air slaked lime, fine dirt or ashes to the boards. This not only helps to keep down the vermin, but will assist materially in removing the droppings the next time.

TWENTY MINERS RESCUED

Three Others Still Entombed in a Canadian Coal Mine.

Coal Creek, B. C., Aug. 1.—As the result of a cave-in in a coal mine at Crow's Nest Pass, on the Canadian Pacific railroad, twenty-three miners were buried in the workings of the mine. A large crew of rescuers is at work valiantly endeavoring to dig a tunnel through the 400 feet of earth which separates the imprisoned miners from daylight, in order to give them air and sustain life until they can be reached.

The accident came without warning. The miners were all at work in the main shaft of the mine. Only the sudden roar of the crashing rocks and dirt warned them, and their hasty dash for liberty came too late. Men on the surface immediately summoned aid and set to work trying to dig a tunnel to their comrades. The work of rescue was made difficult by gas, but rescuing parties finally took out twenty men alive and the other three will probably be rescued.

LITTLE CHICAGO GIRL IS MISSING

Peculiar Circumstances Surround Disappearance.

RESEMBLES THE FULLER CASE

Twelve-Year-Old Child Enticed Away From Home by an Advertisement in a Newspaper—All Trace of Her Has Been Lost.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Striking similarity in the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of Veronica Cassidy, a twelve-year-old girl, who left her home Thursday night with a man who gave his name as "F. J. Blair," and those in the case of the murder of Eleanor Maud Fuller in San Francisco, in January, 1902, by a man named Charles B. Hadley, led the Chicago police to the belief that the abductor in both cases may have been identical. The Cassidy girl answered a newspaper advertisement for a companion for an elderly woman and was allowed by her mother to go with the man who called at her home in response, since which time trace of her has been lost. The Fuller girl answered a similar advertisement and was taken by Hadley to a flat where, five days later, she was found strangled to death.

Hadley has never been apprehended.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

General Tendency Toward Improvement Reported.

New York, Aug. 1.—Bradstreet's review of trade says trade, crop and industrial reports show little change from last week, but general tendencies and certainly sentiment are in the direction of moderate improvement. Preparations for the opening of fall jobbing trade in the first week of August are making at all cities, buyers are gathering in large numbers and a full representation with increased buying is looked for. At a few cities July trade has not been up to the expectations, but at New York, where a moderate increase in activity is noted, there has been a disposition to await forthcoming large auction sales of cotton and woolen goods as offering a line on future demand. Best reports of fall trade come from the Central West, Northwest and the South Everywhere, however, the testimony is that buying is of a conservative character. In industry there are evidences of expansion in some lines and of contraction in others. Factories are running simply "on orders."

BRYAN IS MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Will Complete Speech of Acceptance on Aug. 5.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 1.—Only a small number of visitors went out to the Bryan home to pay their respects to the Democratic nominee for the presidency. In consequence of the few interruptions Mr. Bryan made rapid headway with his speech of acceptance. He said that it would be completed Aug. 5. Regarding its possible length, Mr. Bryan stated that he was unable to estimate it at this time. The programme of exercises in connection with the notification Aug. 12 was announced by Mayor F. W. Brown after it had been submitted to Mr. Bryan for approval. With the exception of the speeches the affair will be a nonpartisan one and on a simple scale. Advice already received by the committee on arrangements indicate that Mr. Bryan will face a vast audience in the capitol grounds when he is formally notified of the action of the Denver convention in placing him in nomination.

TWO VIEWS OF BRYAN

Nebraskan's Rise in Politics and His Home Life.

ALWAYS A HARD WORKER.

Once a Poor Boy, Working on a Farm, He Has Risen to Eminence and Leadership by His Own Efforts. Life in His Home Ideal.

Few men out of office have been so constantly in the public eye for a stretch of years as the presidential nominee of the Denver convention. The originator of two whirlwind campaigns that ended in defeat, his multitude of enthusiastic followers now believe he is about to start another that will carry him to the White House. To them, says the New York Herald, he is an intellectual giant, incorruptible, the great American commoner, destined to be president elected by the plain people.

William Jennings Bryan was born in Salem, Marion county, Ill., on March 19, 1860. He was educated in the public schools and Whipple academy. Illinois college graduated him in 1881, he being the valedictorian of his class, receiving the degree of A. M. from that institution in 1884, as well as from the Union College of Law at Chicago the year previous.

As a duck to water Mr. Bryan took to politics. He was a member of congress from the Lincoln (Neb.) district in 1891-1895. In 1893 he received the Democratic vote for the United States senatorship. The Nebraska state Democratic convention nominated him for United States senator a year later, but he was defeated by John M. Thurston.

For the next two years Mr. Bryan was editor of the Omaha World-Herald. He went as a delegate to the national Democratic convention in Chicago in 1896, where his notable speech on the "cross of gold and crown of thorns" carried the convention off its feet, and he was nominated for the presidency on the free silver issue, on which he made his canvass. It was a stirring campaign. The candidate traveled more than 18,000 miles, making speeches at every stopping place. The vote in the electoral college was 176 for Bryan and 271 for McKinley.

A continued campaign for free silver followed after the election. Mr. Bryan lectured on bimetalism from one end of the country to the other until the breaking out of the Spanish-American war, when he raised and organized the Third regiment, Nebraska volunteers, and was made colonel of the regiment.

When the time rolled round again for a national convention Mr. Bryan had strengthened his hold on the party organization, and 1900 saw him once more in the field as the Democratic standard bearer. This time he received the endorsement of the Populists and the silver Republicans. The issue, however, was "imperialism." Mr. Bryan declaring that the holding of colonies or outlying possessions like Porto Rico and the Philippines was not contemplated by the founders of the republic nor allowable under its constitution. The result was 155 votes for Mr. Bryan in the electoral college and 293 for Mr. McKinley.

These two defeats did not dampen the ardor of Mr. Bryan nor blunt his ambition. Soon after the 1900 election he established the Commoner, a weekly political journal, published in his home town of Lincoln, Neb., by which he has kept alive the fires of admiration and respect in the hearts of those whose political ideas coincide with his own. In addition to editing his paper Mr. Bryan has been a familiar figure on the lecture platform, and he has issued two widely circulated books, "The First Battle" and "Under Other Flags," by all of which, with special articles written for magazines and newspapers, he is said to have acquired a considerable fortune. He has also been something of a farmer. But it is suspected this has been for pleasure and not for revenue only.

On the occasion of a tour around the world made by Mr. Bryan within the last two years he was treated with marked respect in the many countries which he visited. Japan, China, Russia, England and continental Europe rendered him distinguished honor. He had an audience with King Edward. The lord chancellor of England commended him before the Interparliamentary conference, which cheered his speech in favor of his international peace resolution and promptly adopted it. This resolution did much to change the opinions of those who had regarded Mr. Bryan as a ranting political fanatic and dangerous demagogue. In fact, the idea spread that Mr. Bryan had become a philosopher, that his ideas had broadened and that he was no longer the radical Bryan of the convention of 1896. His views advocating federal control of railroads, expounded on his return from Europe, were thus a great surprise to the Democrats of the east, with whom he was becoming extremely popular.

Many reasons are advanced for Mr. Bryan's continuation in the public eye after two crushing defeats. Those who admit his great ability as a public speaker, his intellectual gifts, his fire and force in all that he undertakes, say that his prominence is not due to these things alone. They laud him as a type of the self made American, of good moral principles, definite aims and determined will. They believe in him as the exponent of the American doctrine of equality to all and favor to none. Moreover, Mr. Bryan has a marked dash of sentimentality in his makeup. This deals strongly to the women of the west, who have done not a little toward making him popular and keeping him at the front. His wife was his classmate in college. In the canvass of 1896 she accompanied him wherever he went, and he reposed much confidence in her judgment in the political movements, which to most women would be a maze and as incomprehensible as a plan of battle.

Mr. Bryan started life as a poor boy, and while in the public school he worked on a farm. All through life he has been a hard worker and conscientious man. During his law studies he was connected with the office of Senator Lyman Trumbull and on completing his studies returned to Jacksonville to practice. Here his struggles have been likened to those of Lincoln, under the same conditions in the same state. At first his practice did not amount to much. Much of his time was given to speechmaking in the country districts. The managers of every camp meeting and country fair wanted young Bryan to talk to the crowd. He was fond, too, of frequenting a certain village grocery store to exchange witticisms with the sages of the town. Here the fate of the nation was nightly settled, to be decided again when the debaters gathered next night around the cracker box or whittled the benches outside.

It was in 1887 that Mr. Bryan decided to go west. He arrived in Lincoln, Neb., in October of that year and became a member of the law firm of Talbot & Bryan. He had known Talbot in Illinois, and it was he who had induced him to go to Nebraska. Bryan at once attracted attention as an orator, but for a long time his fame did not extend beyond the district. In 1889 Bryan wrote to J. Sterling Morton, the Democratic nominee for congress, afterward President Cleveland's secretary of agriculture, asking permission to take the stump for him. Morton had heard Bryan, and he accepted the offer. Morton was defeated in the political revolution of that year and O'Connell, the Republican, elected by more than 3,000 majority. But the defeat of Morton caused the birth of Bryan as a political power. He had interested the people in himself by his oratory, and the politicians were forced to take him up. He made a fight for the Democratic nomination the next year and captured it. That was the year of the Republican slump. The district repudiated O'Connell and the McKinley tariff and gave Bryan its old time Democratic plurality of 7,000.

It is said the "cross of gold and crown of thorns" speech made Bryan a national figure. It is an unusual combination of luck and the intelligent seizing of an opportunity. Mr. Bryan had seen his chance when the Democrats began to tinker in the house with the tariff. The wave of Populism then at its height had filled the house with men of mediocre ability. Among the new members of merit Bryan stood pre-eminent by reason of his intellectuality and power in debate. He became a leader, and, being precise in his words, graceful in manner, master of sarcasm and irony, he soon had a large following. The Chicago convention, full of men of Populist tendency, was as gunpowder to the fire of earnestness supplied by Bryan in his famous speech. He carried them off their feet, and he awoke to find himself famous.

His genial disposition and kindly nature are as often spoken of by Bryan's friends as his ability and uprightness of character. His home life is declared ideal. The family lives at Fairview, a beautiful country home, which Mr. Bryan insists every one shall regard as a farm. There is no pomp there. The family is astir at 7 o'clock every morning and at half past 7 sits down to breakfast.

This breakfast is a hearty one. After that the farmer-editor plunges into his work of the day by opening the mail received by free rural delivery. When Mrs. Bryan has finished her household duties she becomes a stenographer and takes down the answers to her husband's letters. He then dictates to her most of his editorials.

The Bryans have three children—Ruth Bryan Leavitt, wife of an artist now in Paris; William Jennings Bryan, Jr., and Miss Grace Bryan, who attends school in Virginia. Mrs. Leavitt has two little children, one Ruth, named after her mother, who is four, and Bryan, who is nearly three years old. These two are the two real rulers of the household. Social life at Fairview is very democratic. The family has a great many friends in Lincoln, and there is much visiting to and fro. The "farm" abounds with attractions both bucolic and urban. There are plenty of horses and dogs and barns and crops and shady nooks, a library filled with well selected books and a porch where all visitors are cordially received and made to feel that they are welcome to a well appointed, thoroughly American home.

Result of Fierce Storm.
Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 1.—Two children drowned, traffic tied up on at least four lines of railroad and most of the navigable rivers, crops badly damaged and in large areas of lowlands entirely destroyed, is a partial record of the effects in Eastern Carolina of the West Indian storm that raged on the Atlantic coast.

The Olympiad "Foreigners."
The hammer throw had been announced; the bugles had been blown; the heavy hammers flew and bounced, by mighty giants thrown.
"Who wins it?" cried the eager throng.
"Who captures this event?"
And the Irish entries came along, retiring to their tent.

"A foreigner has beaten us," they said, with a groan.
"A foreigner—United States—A fellow named Malone."
A dozen men were crouched to start, and the starter fired the gun.
And as a bow projects a dart the men were off to run.
"Who wins it?" cried the eager crowd.
"Who captures this event?"
And the German sprinters, sad and bowed, retired upon their tent.

"A foreigner has conquered us," they said and winced a bit.
"A foreigner—United States—His name is Otto Schmidt."
The hurdle race was duly called, and the starter fired the shot.
And some there were overhauled, and some there were not.
"Who wins it?" cried the multitude.
"Who wins this last event?"
And the Frenchmen, beaten and subdued, retired upon their tent.

"A foreigner outthundered us," they said, with little heart.
"A foreigner—United States—A man named Bonaparte."
The running jump was on the card, and men went high aloft.
And some men hit the island hard, and others hit it soft.
"Who wins it?" cried the eager mass.
"Who captures this event?"
And the Swedish jumpers sadly passed, retiring on their tent.

"A foreigner has won," they said; "Some fellow from Wisconsin. He yump like sixty, and his name—His name was Yung Yenson."

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach is utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

DEMONSTRATES ABILITY TO FLY

Henri Farman Gives an Exhibition at Brighton Beach.

AERONAUTS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

Vociferously Cheer Air Navigator at Conclusion of Successful Flight and Want to Carry Him Off the Field on Their Shoulders.

New York, Aug. 1.—Rising from the ground like a giant bird and darting through the air at express train speed, Henri Farman's aeroplane, the heavier than air flying machine he brought here from France to demonstrate his ability to fly, made its initial flight in this country at Brighton Beach. It rose from an especially prepared runway at the will of the inventor and after attaining a height of twenty-five feet flew straight ahead on a direct line, finally alighting with exquisite grace when the noted air pilot diminished the motive power.

During the brief space of time in which the aeroplane was skimming over the center field of the racetrack the few hundred spectators, most of whom were friends of the inventor or rival aviators, watched the flight with breathless interest. The instant the trim looking machine landed cheered the air—cheers far more enthusiastic and vociferous than those of a racetrack crowd. Farman was surrounded and literally hugged by the jubilant aeronauts. Members of the Aero Club of America, under whose auspices Farman will conduct his public flights at Brighton Beach, wanted to carry the successful inventor off the field on their shoulders.

Newspaper photographers crowded around the aeroplane to get pictures of the machine as it was about to make its first flight in America and it was at this moment that Farman decided to make another test of the motor before flying. He instructed his mechanics to hold fast to the aeroplane while he turned on the power. Instantly the propeller began to revolve at the rate of 1,400 revolutions to the minute and a breeze equal to a small cyclone was created. The photographers were knocked flat and plastered to the ground until the power was turned off.

Only 350 yards were covered in the air in the first flight, but a few minutes later Farman made another try and traveled 760 yards in the air. He could have gone much further, he said, but feared striking a pile of lumber.

KELLY LASTS THREE ROUNDS

Stanley Ketchell Quickly Knocks Out Chicago Fighter.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Stanley Ketchell knocked out Hugo Kelly of Chicago in the third round. A left shift to the jaw, after Kelly had all the better of the two opening rounds gave the latter his quietus.

In the third and last round Ketchell sent in three lefts to the jaw as quick as a flash. The third caught Kelly flush on the jaw and sent him to the floor of if shot. He was unable to rise and was counted out.

SPECIAL COUNCIL FORMED

To Put Turkish Constitution into Force Immediately.

Constantinople, Aug. 1.—An official communication just issued announces the formation of a special council to put the constitution in force immediately. The council is composed of Kiamil Pasha and the ministers of foreign affairs and interior, the president of the state council and the legal adviser to the porte.

The sultan has decided shortly to issue a rescript consecrating the constitution.

The leaders of the Young Turks are working methodically to insure the success of the new regime. They are devoting their efforts in the first place to getting the finances of the country in order, and to the regular payment of officials. With this as their aim, they have secured the grand vizier's promise that the salaries of high officials will be reduced to proper amounts and that none of the additional sums hitherto paid will be allowed them. Nobody will be permitted to retain two offices and all needless under secretariats and like offices will be abolished.

ELLIS OFFERED POSITION.

May Be First Assistant Attorney General of the United States.

Cincinnati, Aug. 1.—Wade H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, has been offered the position of first assistant attorney general of the United States. Mr. Ellis, who is resting after the strenuous work preceding the nomination of W. H. Taft for president, has asked for time to consider the appointment. Before and during the Republican convention, Mr. Ellis was engaged on the Republican platform and

WADE H. ELLIS.

It is believed that his strenuous efforts in that connection were responsible for his present prostration. The letter from Mr. Bonaparte, the United States attorney general, arrived Thursday, but Mr. Ellis was in a condition which forbade consideration of the proffer before two weeks has elapsed.

WILL GET LETTERS FROM JUDGE TAFT

Three Babies Named After Republican Candidate.

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 1.—Although he kept his secretary and three stenographers exceedingly busy all day and into the night handling replies to his heavy mail, Candidate Taft had comparatively a care free day. He divided his work with a game of golf in the morning and a ride with General Corbin as companion in the afternoon.

Colorado wants Mr. Taft's presence in September, according to an urgent invitation which came from the management of the interstate fair and exposition to be opened Labor day in Denver. As the acceptance of the invitation would mean an abandonment of Mr. Taft's present plan to conduct his personal campaign without travel, his regrets were sent.

Three miniature "William Howard Tafts" have made dots on the political and domestic horizon in New York, Indiana and Illinois, according to letters from the proud parents to the candidate, and each of the three will get an autograph letter from the original bearer of the name and perhaps something besides. The Hoosier Taft was born, according to advices received, during the delivery of the Taft speech of acceptance. The parents of the Illinois William Howard Taft chose the name a year ago, but not for political reasons, as their statement is that the boy weighed 25½ pounds at birth.

The New York baby is credited with the real "Taft smile." His father, a pharmacist, writes:

"From the way the youngster smiles every time I ask him if the Republican party is going to win, I feel sure you will be our next president."

Many congratulatory letters on the acceptance speech have been received by Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft has not yet indicated whether a reply will be made to Mr. Bryan's comments on the speech.

UNITED STATES AND HONDURAS

Unpleasant Situation Has Developed Between Them.

DAVILLA'S ACTION THE CAUSE

President of the Central American Republic Cancelled the Exequaturs of the Foreign Consuls at Ceiba—Incident Causes Annoyance in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 1.—An unpleasant situation has developed between the United States and Honduras growing out of the action of President Davilla in cancelling the exequaturs of the foreign consuls at Ceiba, Honduras, because of their alleged friendliness to the revolutionists' cause. These officers include American Consul Drew Linard and Vice Consul Reynolds, and the vice consuls of France and Norway. The reports that have reached the state department uphold the contention of the consuls that they have not been guilty of any breach of propriety, that they did not advise the surrender of the town when demanded by the revolutionists, as charged by Honduras, but simply communicated the demand to the commandant. The incident has caused considerable annoyance to this government which, ever since the revolution in Honduras commenced, has exerted its best efforts to prevent any breach of neutrality in Central America that might prove adverse to President Davilla's government.

Secretary Bacon had a call from Senor Ugarte, the Honduran minister, who presented to Mr. Bacon some information he had received from Foreign Minister Fiallos, giving the Honduran side of the controversy. Mr. Bacon will take up the matter again next week. He had intended to start on an official mission to Porto Rico today, but this and other state department questions demanding his attention made it necessary for him to delay his departure.

SWEEPING DEMURRER.

Made by Railroad in Action Brought by the Government.

Boston, Aug. 1.—A demurrer as sweeping as legal phraseology could make it and offering objections both to the form and substance of petition, was the answer filed in the United States circuit court here by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, as defendants in the action brought against it by the United States government. As filed the demurrer is in three parts, in the first of which the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company appears as a corporation in three states. In the second part the New Haven road demurs as having formerly been the Consolidated Railroad company, a Connecticut corporation. The third part embraces the demurrer of the Providence Securities company. The main contention in each part of the demurrer (and all three parts are practically identical in many specifications) is that the petition is uncertain in its statements concerning alleged violations of the interstate commerce act.

Aside from the principal representations of the demurrer, the general claim is offered that the government's petition does not make out a case such as should entitle the petitioner to the relief prayed for against the defendant.

"Repugnant and inconsistent" and containing "material allegations which contradict one another," are also declarations made with reference to the petition, and all that part of it which relates in any way "to the Boston and Maine railroad, or to any connection of the defendant therewith," is specific as a subject of demurrer.

They feel hopeful of Pettibone's recovery, however, if there is no cancerous growth.

CONFERENCE HELD AT SAGAMORE HILL

Conditions in the Canal Zone at Panama Discussed.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 1.—A conference on conditions in the American canal zone at Panama and on the relations of the canal zone with the Republic of Panama, was held at Sagamore Hill.

Secretary of War Wright and Secretary of the Isthmian Canal Commission Joseph Bishop, who had been summoned here to discuss the Panama matters with the president, came here, accompanied by Mrs. Bishop and Gifford Pinchot, chief of the bureau of forestry. The guests remained over night at Sagamore Hill.

With General Wright and Secretary Bishop the president went over the situation in Panama. The conference will be resumed, when the future policy to be followed by the officials of the canal zone will be determined.

When questioned regarding a report from Panama which stated that the people there believed that the ultimate result of the American operations on the Isthmus would be the seizure by the United States of the Republic of Panama, Secretary Bishop said that the alarm, if there was any, was absurd. He remarked that the people of Panama did not seem to understand that the United States was there to dig the canal and do nothing else.

General Wright had nothing to say concerning the conference with the president on Panama. He said that he probably would talk with the president also on the dismissal of the eight cadets from West Point for hazing.

Gifford Pinchot came to see the president regarding the work of the national conservation commission, in which the president is so greatly interested. He said that the work was progressing very favorably.

HITCHCOCK KEEPS OUT OF IT

Declines to Mix in Political Fight in New York State.

New York, Aug. 1.—If the Republican political leaders of New York state who conferred with Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, hoped to draw from the Taft manager an expression of opinion as to the wisdom of renominating Governor Hughes for a second term or of turning him down, they were keenly disappointed. Practically the entire day was spent by Mr. Hitchcock in listening to state leaders expound their views on the governorship question, but he told them all that it was not a part of his duties to pick candidates for state tickets. He declared that he would not consent to take any part in purely state campaigns, so long as no party breach that might endanger the national ticket was threatened.

Not only did Mr. Hitchcock conceal his own preference in regard to the governorship, but he successfully eluded every effort on the part of the callers to learn whether President Roosevelt and Judge Taft were in favor of the renomination of Hughes. He said he had not discussed the question at Cincinnati with the Republican nominee for president, nor had he received any communication from Mr. Roosevelt regarding the matter.

ENERGETIC CAMPAIGN.

Will Be Waged by Democratic Manager Mack.

New York, Aug. 1.—Several members of the Democratic national committee have reached here and will confer with Norman E. Mack, the Democratic manager, when he arrives to make arrangements for the opening of Eastern headquarters for Bryan and Kern.

That Mr. Mack intends to wage an energetic campaign is indicated by the announcement of an advisory committee made up of Democratic leaders representing all sections of the country, under the chairmanship of David R. Francis of Missouri, and including Governor Johnson of Minnesota. The members named are all drawn from outside of the national committee.

The executive committee, which was announced, numbers twenty members, more than twice the usual size. In addition there was a labor committee named, and through this body special attention will be directed toward reaching out for the vote of the laboring classes.

The chief headquarters for Mr. Mack will be in Chicago, but he expects to divide his time so as to keep in close touch with the East.

St. Paul Boy Drowned.

St. Paul, Aug. 1.—In a fierce struggle for life, during which he grabbed hold of a companion who went to his rescue and almost pulled him in with him to sure death, Ernest, the fifteen-year-old son of Ernest Uhler, blacksmith, was drowned in the Mississippi river. The body has not been recovered.

STRIKE MAY BE ORDERED

Switchmen on the Delaware and Lackawanna May Go Out.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 1.—The most reliable information regarding the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railway switchmen's case is that a statement soon will be issued setting forth the employees' side of the case, and ordering a strike contingent upon the company persisting in refusing to treat further with the grievance committee.

The refusal of President Truesdale to see the committee has caused an acute situation.

Grand Master Hawley and the grievance committee are engaged in preparing a statement. The grand master would give no information as to what would likely eventuate.

Cloudburst in Colorado.

Florence, Colo., Aug. 1.—A cloudburst in the headwaters of Oak and Coal creeks sent a raging torrent down these little streams, flooding three towns, washing out bridges and doing damage estimated to be not less than $100,000. No loss of life is reported.

WIFE SICK SIX YEARS.

When the wife is sick everything goes wrong in the family. Then is when we appreciate a remedy that restores "mother" to her thousand and very severe case of rheumatism in her lower limbs for the past six years.

We tried several doctors as well as remedies but without effect.

"Your great Blood and Rheumatism a friend whom I had cured. She tried it, and after using a couple of bottles of the remedy she is about free from any rheumatic trouble.

MINNESOTA democracy is still looking for a Moses to lead them out of the wilderness of despair. They are hunting for a man who is willing to look
certain defeat in the face while heading their state ticket and keep smiling.

THE call for the democratic county
convention has been issued, the date
being Friday, August 14th, the state convention being on the 19th and this county is entitled to eight delegates to the same. The primaries will be held on Wednesday evening, August 12th.

ST. CLOUD gentlemen have formed an anti-treating society for the purpose, so they state, of not having to carry such heavy loads home. And the Little sinuate that there would be no jags in St. Cloud if the provisions of the society were strictly adhered to.

has given the people of his county good services and the office is up to the standard of any in the state.

THE feasibility of cutting the weeds
in the streets and alleys has finally dawned upon the powers that be and a force of men are at work removing them. The weeds are not only unsightly but are breeding places for
mosquitos and insects of all kinds and
the right step has been taken by putting the men with scythes at work. It
is hoped they will be kept at the job
until the streets are entirely cleaned
of the pest.

GOV. JOHNSON has evened up with
Editor Vasaly of Little Falls, by removing him from the state board of equalization and appointing Charles F.
Lander, of St. Cloud, to succeed him.
The Little Falls editor has been offensively anti-Johnson and his efforts have been so strenuously noticeable in favor
of the "peerless leader" that the governor could not withstand the temptation to decapitate him when the time
came for the reappointment of members
of the board whose terms expired. The
gentleman appointed was a strong
Johnson man during the late unpleasant-
ness and fought the governor's battle
in St. Cloud against the Bryan states-

men, James R. Bennett. The method
the governor takes in evening up political sores of this kind would not be
followed by almost anyone else who expected to ask his party for further favors, but the Johnson wing of the Minnesota democracy is so ripping mad at
any who had the audacity to be for any
one but Johnson that their acts are not
tempered with mercy—or good sense.

FUEL SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Great Danger of Another Fuel
Famine in Brainerd Unless
People Act Quickly

SO SAY THE FUEL DEALERS

Scarcely Any Coal Bought by
Consumers and There is Little Wood in Sight

The Duluth Herald of a day or two ago contained the following regarding the coal situation:

"Commercial agents upon the north-western section of the Northern Pacific were informed today that every effort must be exercised to induce the coal dealers to make prompt orders of fuel. In the communication the agents of the road were informed that there might be a car shortage approaching that of two years ago, should the coal and wheat movement come at the same time.

"Up to the present time hardly any coal has moved westward. The orders of the road for the past two months are in some instances actually behind those of April and May. This month the coal orders should be very heavy.

"Officials of the Western roads state that cars are becoming more scarce and that in the event of a heavy crop movement the coal dealers may find it very hard to get coal. The lesson of two years ago is held up to the dealers as a condition that may occur this year.

"For the past three months efforts to induce the country dealers to get in early orders have been without avail, but the warning issued this morning may bring results."

A DISPATCH reporter called on the various coal dealers of the city and made inquiries concerning the matter. In every instance the answer was the same, that the people had evidently forgotten the lesson of two years ago and were utterly neglecting to lay in their supply of fuel. Mr. Fisher, of the Fisher-Budd Fuel company, stated that while they had filled their fuel sheds and built an additional one and filled that early in the season they had sold practically no coal. Last year they had put over 800 tons in the consumers' bins by the first of August and this year they have not yet sold 50 tons since warm weather commenced.

"Unless people wake up, said Mr. Fisher," they will be up against a worse proposition than they were two years ago. It is impossible for the local dealers, with the close margin on coal, to buy in the summer time and store until winter, enough to carry the city through. Each consumer, however, can in most instances carry his own supply without cramping him. There is little wood in sight this year and should there be a car shortage or blockades the fuel situation will be critical in the extreme."

Mr. Larson spoke in a similar strain in the matter. Mr. Hitch was not in when the reporter called, but it is known that he has been pushing the cement business more than the fuel business during the summer and probably 100 tons of coal will cover the entire amount in private bins in the city, as against 1,500 to 2,000 tons in stock last year at this time.

Whatever one may think of the possibility of the railroads handling the coal when actually needed, the sense of satisfaction of knowing that you are not dependent upon anyone for the means of keeping comfortable next winter is worth more than the interest on the investment in your winter's supply of fuel, and besides it is cheaper now than it will be next winter.

OPENING SUCCESSFUL

Special Sales Opening to Big Crowds
--Security State Bank Now Doing Business

The two special sales which opened up this morning were well attended. At H. W. Linnemann's big clearance sale a large number of young men were kept busy waiting on the men who were taking advantage of the bargains offered. The store was crowded during the entire day.

The bankrupt sale of the Cale stock which opened this morning attracted a large crowd the majority of whom are women. The many clerks are kept busy.

The Security state bank opened for business this morning and Mr. Storck, the cashier reports a most flattering business. The bank has engaged Earl Arnold, son of P. J. Arnold of this city as stenographer and clerk and he assumed the duties of his position this morning. Messrs. Guerin and Storck both express themselves not only as well satisfied with the day's business but very glad that vexatious delays incident to getting started are at last over. Here's success to the young institution, may it live long and prosper.

There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at H. P. Dunn's drug store. 50c. tts

Goes Back to Deerwood

The Verndale Sun says: C. J. Rathvon, who purchased the Racket store last spring, is to return to his former home at Deerwood with his family about the middle of August. He has a hotel there that had been rented, but now the renter is to move out and Mr. Rathvon is forced to return and take charge of the property. He has done fairly well with his business here and dislikes to give it up at this time. The stock will be closed out in the next ten days at cost and at the prices the goods have been marked down so the stock should be pretty well gone in the ten days' time. What is left over will be shipped to Deerwood.

Machine to Pack Apples

A new invention which will no doubt be a boon to fruit growers has been produced in Wenatchee, Wash., and the inventors have applied for a patent. The new invention is an apple packing machine and will be introduced by Wenatchee men. The apple packing machine is built of steel and is practically indestructible. The machine is not heavy and can be moved about with little effort. It is operated by placing the foot on a lever, which throws a clamp on the lid of the box and forces it into place, with plenty of room left for nailing.

Severe Cure For Prostrations.

"On these hot days I make the men shut down every window and turn on the steam heat," said the owner of a big factory the other day. "I know that sounds like a crazy man's act, but it is the only thing to do. Working away as they are, almost stripped, the draft from open windows does the men more harm than good. The thing that makes them feel the heat is not so much the soaring of the mercury as that of the humidity. Ninety-nine out of every hundred prostrations are caused by the humidity. By shutting the windows to keep out the moist air and by turning on the steam heat I thoroughly dry that which is already inside. The temperature is driven 5 to 10 degrees higher by this means, but the consequent diminution of humidity more than counteracts this. Before I caught on to this scheme I used to have employees prostrated almost every day through the summer months, and on very hot days I had to shut down altogether. Now the men work on the hottest days, and not one has been prostrated this year. I know it sounds crazy, but you just try it and you'll be surprised at the result."

RM, HOME AND GARDEN

Poultry Lice and Mites

The lice and mites of the poultry house are entirely different, although often spoken of as they were the same creatures. Both of them breed in the filth and damp corners of the houses, so that cleanliness is the greatest help to get rid of them. The lice are found on the walls, roosts and nests of the house, but spend a great deal of their time on the fowls. Cleanliness in the house and thorough whitewashing twice a year, in addition to the furnishing of dust baths for the fowls and use of insect powder on setting hens, will, usually, keep the house pretty free from lice. The little chicks can be treated with a small amount of lard rubbed on the head and throat and under the wings.

The mites are harder to kill and need more vigorous treatment. They visit the fowls only at mealtimes, making their raids at night, and then returning to their hiding places. Kerosene emulsion gives the best results in fighting them. It is made as follows: Shave a half pound laundry soap in a gallon of soft water and boil. Remove from the fire and while hot mix in two gallons of kerosene, stirring with a paddle or churning with a force pump. This will make a thick emulsion. Use one part of this stock emulsion to ten parts soft water and apply to every portion of the house with a spray pump or whitewash brush. Give a second dose three or four days later, and still another three or four days after the second. The emulsion will kill every mite and louse it touches and the second and third doses will get those that hatch after the previous applications.

Dirty dropping boards are the greatest breeding places for vermin. Clean off the boards frequently, especially during warm weather. After each cleaning apply air slaked lime, fine dirt or ashes to the boards. This not only helps to keep down the vermin, but will assist materially in removing the droppings the next time.

TWENTY MINERS RESCUED

Three Others Still Entombed in a Canadian Coal Mine.

Coal Creek, B. C., Aug. 1.—As the result of a cave-in in a coal mine at Crow's Nest Pass, on the Canadian Pacific railroad, twenty-three miners were buried in the workings of the mine. A large crew of rescuers is at work valiantly endeavoring to dig a tunnel through the 400 feet of earth which separates the imprisoned miners from daylight. In order to give them air and sustain life until they can be reached.

The accident came without warning. The miners were all at work in the main shaft of the mine. Only the sudden, sudden roar of the crashing rocks and dirt warned them, and their hasty dash for liberty came too late. Men on the surface immediately summoned aid and set to work trying to dig a tunnel to their comrades. The work of rescue was made difficult by gas, but rescuing parties finally took out twenty men alive and the other three will probably be rescued.

Dunn & Co.'s drug store. Previous to their use there was a dull steady aching in my back and an annoyance from the kidney secretions. From the results I obtained I believe any sufferer from kidney complaint will find in Doan's Kidney Pills a true specific for kidney trouble."

Tell him not to try to walk on the plank, to crawl, and not to try to bring the airship in the window."—Buffalo Times.
